Our History curriculum at Bassingbourn Village College delivers a rigorous, knowledge-rich inquiry into the forces that shaped Britain and the world. We plan to develop high-level historical literacy, challenging students to interrogate the past through both evidence in many and various forms and historiography. From the Medieval world to the Industrial Revolution and on to the geopolitical tensions of the twentieth century and their links with today, pupils will master a vast and varied chronological framework

By prioritizing analytical depth over surface-level survey, we equip students to recognise and evaluate propaganda , in its many guises, and construct sophisticated, evidence-led arguments. We hope to foster resilient thinkers capable of navigating and understanding complex narratives, evaluating a variety of sources and interpretations of individuals and events ensuring they leave with a formidable understanding of power, identity, and change.
